so this game seems like its a really fun game but how can people play when it does not let you on the server. sorry but why waste 3-4 hours trying to get the game to connect to the server when I can simple play a diffrent game. This is a really fun game.

Most of the complaints about the survival aspects are kind of silly because get this...you can turn it off.
Lots of character classes, pretty mindless but fun action, cool loot and some higher tier crafting stuff to shoot for as well.

When you die you drop a lot of your gear but as another review failed to realize is that there is an npc that will find your gear for you. Really helps with that difficulty spike that comes from having to find your stuff on your own while gimped.

I could go on, but to summarize, this is a very solid game for the price. And it was made by a legitimate legend of the industry who deserves the support.

If you ACTUALLY PAY ATTENTION TO THE MECHANICS IN THE GAME you will probably have a good time.. Some of the best dialogue to be had in a point & click game. This is a port from smartphone games, but don't let that put you off. Detective Grimoire is quirky and a fun gaming experience. If the name doesn't give it away, you play as Detective Grimoire and with your wicked eyebrows you go around Boggy's Bog to solve the murder of the owner and curator of this swampy tourist attraction.

This isn't a hidden object game or even a point & click with a tonne of puzzles. There is an unique "thinking" game that pops up every now and then and interrogating suspects is quite fun using the case files and evidence you slowly collect. It's a good introduction game to anyone who hasn't really played the genre before, or for a younger audience to keep amused by during a long journey.

The art direction adds to the atmosphere and a rather underrated soundtrack tops it all off. Detective Grimoire will not disappoint if you want something light and engaging; without blaster guns and impossible tasks.. This game is a simulator of my daily life. very challenging game.

Every time that I think, ok this last puzzle was the hardest one, then a new one appears to break my mind. I'm having a lot of fun discovering paths, killing enemies and solving puzzle.

Thnks Ruve for it. keep it running

. I love it. So many details, "everything" works. It took some time before I understood how to get this locomotive started and getting the braking system to work smoothly, I really had to sit down and learn a couple of technical things about it, which is something I expect of a Pro Range loco. Thank you for developing this! 10V10. Awesome stuff!

This game was a hot mess at launch. Is it a hot mess now? Nope. This is an excellent game with a level of exploration not found in any other game. It's fantastic. Got some extra cash for a game? Give No Man's Sky a try.. Wow it is really fun game that I can play again.

Single player mode is kind of like Arkanoid, you can shoot the blocks and get more balls depend on your energy, multiplayer mode is like Air hockey and this could be very fun game at VR player with my friend.

Hope to see more people at the multiplayer.. Team Ninja Boardroom Meeting:

Team Ninja: "Tengu has such a distinct fighting style unlike anyone else in the game, how do we get more players to gravitate to Tengu?"

Random Dev: "What if we made Tengu hot?". Although you can own dragons and unicorns, this expansion offers nothing else i.e. campaigns.. I quite like this type of game. Making with low-poly characters.

Firstly, the Story simply express the normal relationship between a couple. See through the life of characters, there are some plots reflects on me. And..I was moved!

What's More, I like the soundtrack along the game. Full of details!!.. Something like the Man move pipe in Water Scene, the Man walk on sand-storm weather with wind sound. More stuff should that other players experiences their own.~..

Final thing, I expect Next Episode, and hope it won't be that long time to come out.... this game doesn't even take place near the 22nd century. Just a wonderful time. Super atmospheric. A masterpiece!!!. Gosh, what a bad game...

If anybody needs proof that a match-3 puzzle game isn't the kind of thing where you can afford to be a lazy programmer, then here it is.

PROS:

- None. Quite rare for me, as I'm easy to please when it comes to gaming.

CONS:

- The gameplay is a mix between 'Clickomania' (a very old match-3 game, and certainly not the most exciting kind) and 'modern' match-3's with powerups and other silly things. But Clickomania's main interest was based on whether you could remove all of the tiles from a board without any lockups. You know, an actual puzzle... There's no such thing here, and lockups most likely happen at the beginning of a stage when very few blocks are available to click on. Then the level just reshuffles, very slowly. And it's not even our fault...
- Sometimes when a level ends, nothing happens. You actually have to click the Menu button, then Resume, for the game to find its way again. And if it shows you an achievement, then you have to do it twice.
- Story is ridiculous. It's only told through a simple block of text at the beginning of each season (series of levels). I didn't get any story panel for Autumn, which is either a solid bug, or even more laziness on their side.
- The first season is mostly dedicated to tutorials, but you get rainbow blocks in a few levels before they're properly introduced.
- Clicks don't always register. A mortal sin for a match-3. In fact, there is no feeling of pleasure when you click stuff.
- The music is bland and generic, the graphics are passable in general but blocks themselves vary from okay to very ugly. And since you'll be spending most of your time watching them, hmm...
- Power-ups are incorrectly explained. Seriously, did the game bug and forget to tell me something?
- Some levels are hard and annoying (requiring you to wait for animations to complete so you can actually reach a single tile), and are followed by a very easy level. Where's the difficulty curve?
- Levels require you to click a certain amount of blocks of every color, but they also ask you to finish something that wasn't explained everywhere and that was expressed in percentage values... Okay... Except you have to get that value to zero, rather than 100. At that point, the game designer may very well be a misunderstood genius.
- When you complete a level, the game says it was level '2-1' (first episode, season 2) when the bottom of the screen gives you a sequential number (16). Quality check, anyone?!
- Level time limits are so short (even in relaxed mode, where running out of time doesn't end the level), that you can't help but think that they expect you to click mindlessly everywhere.
- Animations are so slow that you not only click mindlessly, you click randomly because you don't know in advance how many blocks will be removed by clicking them.

I just couldn't get myself to complete the quest mode. In fact, I'd be ashamed to finish it, because it would mean I got some pleasure out of it. Definitely not worth the $0.8 I paid for it.
